our brand pillars

Sensory. Elegant. Hopeful.

These brand pillars are the very foundation of Caracole's DNA and longstanding passion for design excellence and innovation—uniting our product and people, our culture and communities, while providing intention and purpose for everything we do. It is from this place of passion that our new collection evolves, with fresh styles that bring elegance and hope to the world through sensory living experiences.

Within these pages, we hope you will find inspiration to curate and design interiors that engage the senses, evoke emotion, and create connections. Like an unspoken language, this season's collection integrates color, texture, and material to translate the simplicity and beauty found in nature for a reimagining of today's interiors.

ELEGANT

Elegance is defined as beauty that shows unusual effectiveness and simplicity. From science and math, to literature and design, elegance is the standard of taste. We take our cues from mother nature and her elegant designs, often hidden in plain sight; where rhythmic patterns, colors, and shapes are captured through the discerning lens of the golden ratio to decode mother nature's beauty. It's this self-imposed exploration where beauty is unearthed and elegance is realized.

With a nod to traditionalism, Dorian's clean silhouette features stylized roll arms, an exposed wood frame and slender legs, accentuated by Deep Bronze knuckles and metal ferrules for an elegant finishing touch.

true to FORM

With a nod to classical architecture and grandeur of the Greek and Roman age, contemporary forms mix lavish materials—exquisite wood veneers, soft silver leaf, marble and stone—with muted hues accented by decorative elements in black and gold. An emphasis on scale, lines, and symmetry balances luxury with subtlety for an air of elegance that's timeless, yet of the moment.

Whether literal or conceptual, elements of classical architecture infuse form and function with attention to detail, symmetry, scale, and proportion to achieve a sense of harmony.

the power of PATTERN

Evoking emotion and an appreciation for symmetry and order, patterns are more than a decorative accent. Nature-inspired patterns introduce a calming aesthetic, while repeating patterns create movement and a sense of rhythm. Patterns also add a tactile element, and when in balance with exquisite forms, materials, and finishes, define a space with the utmost elegance.

SENSORY

Defined as relating, transmitted or perceived by the physical senses; we are destined to create a soul-healing connection in a world of sensory deprivation. From sight to touch, we imagine, innovate, and create to evoke all of the senses. It's this unmistakable, unspoken spirit that connects our design language with human emotion. From color to material and finish, our unique approach to sensory design pushes the limits of innovation and leadership within the world of design.

Artfully melding the smoky sheen of metal and softness of velvet, the Mantis chair introduces a curvilinear form that's both sleek and sensual.

A language, unspoken: color, texture & material connect with human emotion.

tonal VARIATIONS

Elevate a monochromatic palette by mixing similar tones and finishes to create a subtly layered look that's cohesive yet dimensional. For instance, pair the richness of Mocha with the warmth of bronze metal and a Bourbon Glaze finish that perfectly suits a neutral twill fabric. Natural variations in wood grains and patterns add warmth, texture, and a harmonizing element.

Finished in Woodland Grey to highlight the linear grains of Japanese Sen veneers, the Shelf Sufficient console (above) and Falling Waters nightstand (at right) introduces a tonal play on beige with undertones of grey.

A rich Mocha finish calls attention to radiating starburst patterns on the Daybreak credenza (above) and Prism dresser (at right), for a variation in tone and pattern that complements finishes in a similar hue.

Composed of convex ridges rippling across a surface, reeded elements integrate pattern and texture to create visual interest, adding depth and dimension to living, dining, and bedroom interiors. Standout designs lend a modern interpretation of traditional forms, celebrating attention to detail and materiality. HOPEFUL

Being hopeful means feeling or inspiring optimism about a future event. It's this positive, forward thinking that drives our design philosophy and language. Although our inspiration is rooted in the beauty of nature, our world isn't always kind or compassionate. We infuse our soulful designs with optimism to bring happiness and hope to homes and all those living within.

Inspired designs radiate with happiness & hope.

Attention to detail adds a touch of the unexpected, making a space feel uplifting and expressive.
